Service Definition

Extra Care for Children with Disabilities is the portion of childcare provided to a child on the HCBS Waiver for Aged and Adults and Children with Disabilities (AD). It is for the care of their medical and disability-related needs. This service does not include the cost of routine childcare normally provided by parents/guardians in their own homes, but the extra portion needed for care.

Participants must require additional assistance beyond the routine care and supervision given to children without disabilities or special health conditions in a childcare setting. In Nebraska, due to the Nurse Practice Act, parents/guardians must train the provider on the delivery of medical treatment and therapies.

Extra Care for Children with Disabilities encompasses specialized care needs due to disability or special health condition of the child. Some examples of this include, but are not limited to, preparing, and administering a tube feeding for nutrition; suctioning a child's airway every hour to remove secretions if the child is unable to cough out or swallow; providing physical assistance needed to transfer a child in and out of a wheelchair; or changing an ileostomy or colostomy appliance and completing skin care necessary to maintain an infection-free stoma and surrounding area.
