The following report enclosed is Nebraska's TANF Caseload Reduction Report [ACF 202] for FY23.

The Federal Department of Health and Human Services requires the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services to meet certain Temporary Assistance for Needy Family (TANF) work participation requirements. To assist in meeting these requirements, federal regulations allow Nebraska to deduct the number of percentage points when the average monthly number of families receiving assistance in the preceding fiscal year is less than the average monthly number of families that received assistance in fiscal year 2005. This is termed the TANF Caseload Reduction Credit.

Federal statutes prohibit the Caseload Reduction Credit from including any TANF caseload declines related to the change in federal requirements or state eligibility criteria. These estimated changes and corresponding methodologies are reported in the federal ACF-202 report.
